

UK's Points-Based System

Government fees for EU Nationals post-Brexit

Outlined below are the estimated government fees for an EU national applying for a Tier 2 (General) visa post-Brexit following the introduction of the new policy. Fees listed are accurate as of March 2020.

Tier 2 (General) – Single applicant – 3 years

Application fee	£610
Immigration Health Surcharge*	£1200
Priority Service (optional)	£220
Certificate of Sponsorship	£199
Immigration Skills Charge	£3000
Total	£5229

Tier 2 (General) – Single applicant – 5 years

Application fee	£1220
Immigration Health Surcharge*	£2000
Priority Service (optional)	£220
Certificate of Sponsorship	£199
Immigration Skills Charge	£5000
Total	£8,639

Tier 2 (General) – Family of 4 – 3 years

Application fee, main applicant	£610
Application fee, spouse	£610
Application fee, child	£610
Application fee, child	£610
Priority Service x 4 (optional)	£880
Immigration Health Surcharge	£1200
Immigration Health Surcharge	£1200
Immigration Health Surcharge	£1200
Immigration Health Surcharge	£1200
Certificate of Sponsorship	£199
Immigration Skills Charge	£3000
Total	£11,319

UK's Points-Based System

Tier 2 (General) – Family of 4 – 5 years

Application fee, main applicant	£1220
Application fee, spouse	£1220
Application fee, child	£1220
Application fee, child	£1220
Priority Service x 4 (optional)	£880
Immigration Health Surcharge	£2000
Immigration Health Surcharge	£2000
Immigration Health Surcharge	£2000
Immigration Health Surcharge	£2000
Certificate of Sponsorship	£199
Immigration Skills Charge	£5000
Total	£18,959

*All government fees are subject to change.

The above does not include additional services such as Document Scanning Service or User Pay fees which may be applicable to Visa Application Centres in Europe.

Immigration Health Surcharge

During the UK's General Election at the end of 2019, the Conservative party proposed an increase to the Immigration Health Surcharge from £400 per person per year to £625 per person per year. Further information on this is yet to be announced.